

TCPC2015 is the significance of knowledge sharing; this conference is served as catalysts for the advances in the study of corrosion science and technology by connecting scientists and professionals within the field at various sessions. The technical program will feature paper presentations on a wide range of corrosion topics, including Corrosion Strategy and Management, Corrosion Prevention & Control, Materials Development Selection & Testing and Operation, Maintenance & Inspection.

