

Biography: Nantawat Khomwan

Nantawat Khomwan is currently Acting Assistant to the President for Physical and Interest Management, Kasetsart University, Kamphaeng Saen Campus. He has been work as lecturer at department of civil engineering, Kasetsart University since 2000. He obtained his PhD degree in Civil Engineering from the University of New South Wales 2005). His research was focused on interfacial debonding of CFRP on concrete structure. He obtained CP1-Cathodic Protection Tester certificate, NACE International Institute. He is a Fellow a member of the Australasian Corrosion Association (ACA) and received Corrosion & CP Concrete Structures Certificate. His current research interests are in the fields of repairing and strengthening concrete structure.

